

This is a story about a boy named Jack.

Jack and his mother are very poor.

They have only one cow.

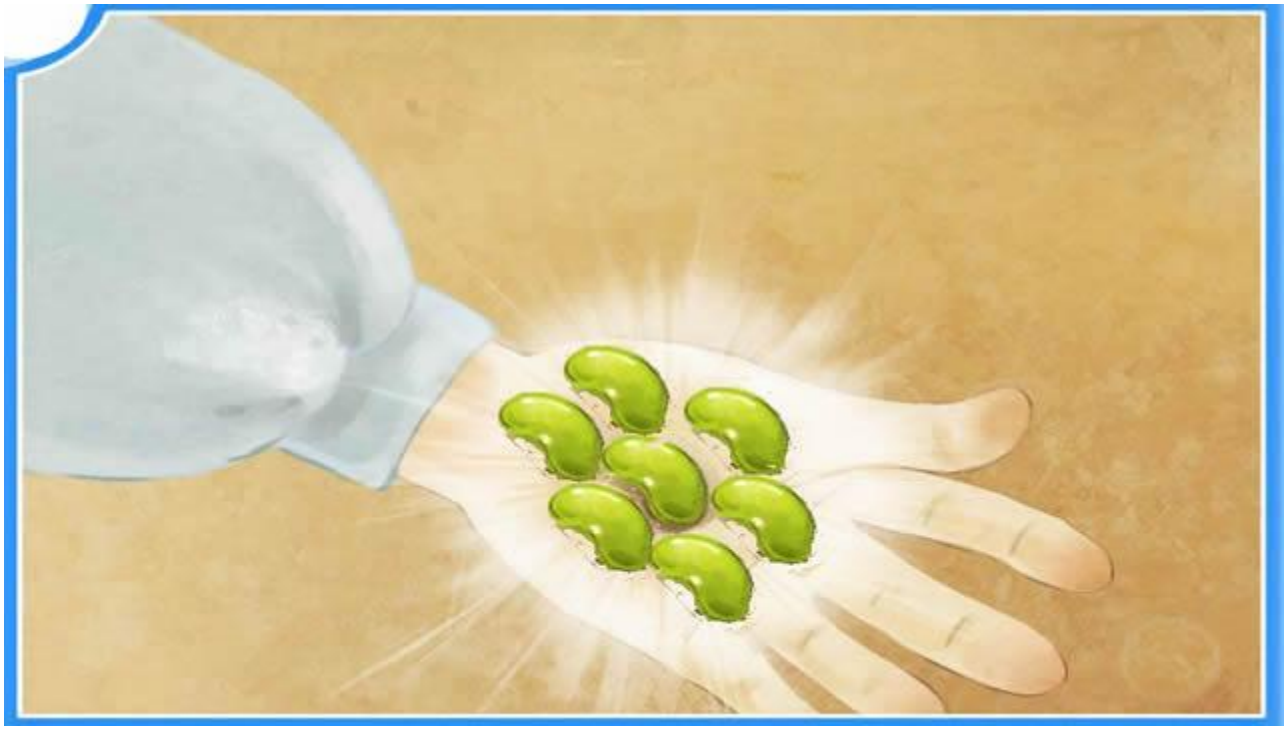

Jack took the cow to the market.

He met an old man.

Jack sells the cow to him.

But Jack only got some beans, not money.

Jack's mother becomes very angry.

She throws the beans out of the window.

The next morning Jack sees a tall beanstalk out of the window. The beans were magic.

Jack climbs up the beanstalk and finds a huge castle.

In the castle, lives a giant, asleep.

The giant has a magic hen and a golden harp. The hen can lay golden eggs. The harp can play beautiful music all by itself.

Jack steals the magic hen and golden harp.

The giant yells "Fee Fi Fo Fum!". Jack is very scared.

The giant chases jack down the beanstalk.

Jack's mother chops down the beanstalk.

The giant falls down to the ground.

and is never seen again.
